Note: In calculating the basic earnings per share, provision of the interests on the perpetual notes issued by the Company has been deducted. Meanwhile, on 18 August 2022, the 2021 equity distribution of the Company was completed and five shares were issued to all Shareholders for every ten shares by way of capitalization of capital reserve. According to the requirements of Article 13 of the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises No. 34 – Earnings per share, the Company has recalculated the earnings per share for the corresponding period of last year based on the adjusted number of shares.

The Group's consolidated results for the six months ended 30 June 2023 is expected to decrease as compared to that of the corresponding period of last year, mainly due to the weakening of global economic and trade growth momentum this year, the demand for traditional marine containers has declined. Therefore, the container manufacturing business of the Group has also declined at the same time as compared to the high level performance of the corresponding period of last year.

Currently, the market demand for the global container transportation industry is gradually picking up, with freight rate and cargo volume showing signs of stabilization. Through following closely the market trend, the demand for the Group's container manufacturing business has become stabilised with an upward trend, the production and sales volume of standard dry containers for marine transportation in the second quarter grew more than double when compared with that in the first quarter. The Group will continue to concentrate on its logistics and energy equipment and service businesses, capture the demands for alternative energy, green circle, value-added services and others in the logistics sub-segments, and accelerate the cultivation of energy business clusters including oil, natural gas, hydrogen energy, offshore wind power, energy storage, etc., with a view to establishing a business portfolio that minimizes cyclical fluctuations and enhances profitability, so as to make long-term growth with stability, build an everlasting enterprise and generate favorable return to the Shareholders.

The Company is still in the process of preparing its consolidated financial statements for the six months ended 30 June 2023. The information contained in this announcement is only based on the internal consolidated management accounts of the Group and the preliminary assessment by the management of the Company, and is not based on any figures or information which has been audited or reviewed by the Company's auditor.

Shareholders and potential investors are advised to read this announcement carefully together with the Group's interim results announcement for 2023 which is expected to be published by the end of August 2023, and exercise cautions when dealing in the shares of the Company.
