FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

During the Year, the Group's revenue decreased from approximately RMB71,049,000 to approximately RMB34,608,000, representing a decrease of approximately 51.3% as compared to last year, on account of the decreased revenue contributed by the outdoor and digital advertising business. During the Year, the total comprehensive expense for the year attributable to the owner of the Company was approximately RMB49,593,000, representing an increase of approximately RMB5,140,000 or 11.6% from RMB44,453,000 as compared to last year, which was mainly due to the increase in the impairment of film rights and the allowance for expected credit losses on trade receivables recognized during the Year.

PROSPECTS

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL REVIEW

The principal business of the Group during the Year included outdoor and digital advertising, film and entertainment investment and prepaid card business. The Group's total revenue for the Year amounted to approximately RMB34,608,000, representing a decrease of approximately RMB36,441,000 or 51.3% as compared to approximately RMB71,049,000 for last year, mainly contributed by the decrease in sales demand, in particular outdoor and digital advertising business due to the fierce competition in the industry which led to reduced number of customers.

Overall gross profit increased by approximately RMB1,595,000 or 11.2% to approximately RMB15,790,000 for the Year from approximately RMB14,195,000 for last year. The gross profit margin for the current period increased to 45.6% from 20.0% in last year. The Group recorded a total comprehensive expense for the year attributable to the owners of the Company of approximately RMB49,593,000 during the Year, representing an increase of approximately RMB5,140,000 or 11.6% when compared to approximately RMB44,453,000 for last year. The increase was mainly due to the increase in the impairment of film rights and the allowance for expected credit losses on trade receivables recognized during the Year.

Printed Media Advertising

Revenue from printed media advertising mainly represented the amount generated from the sales of the advertising space on the periodicals and was recognised upon the publication of the periodicals in which the respective advertisement was placed. “旅伴” (Fellow Traveller) is a monthly nationwide periodicals distributed on China Railway High-speed trains and selected regular trains in the People's Republic of China. With phasing out of the printed media advertising, no revenue was generated during the Year (2022: Nil).

Outdoor and Digital Advertising

Revenue from outdoor advertising represented the advertising income generated from the sales of advertising spaces on the billboards and LEDs installed at certain selected train stations and revenue from promotion campaign conducted in some train stations. Revenue was recognised when advertising was published or station campaigns were launched.

Revenue from digital advertising was recognized when advertising was published, and the income was based on the marketing value generated through the recognition of transaction volume, service fees for advertising design, analysis, planning and other services provided in the process.

Revenue from outdoor and digital advertising decreased by approximately RMB32,958,000 or 92.9% from approximately RMB35,481,000 for last year to approximately RMB2,523,000 for the Year. It was mainly due to the fierce competition in the industry which led to decrease in number of customers. As numerous players vie for market share of the advertising industry, the market become saturated with advertising services and solutions. This heightened competition led to a dilution of customer attention and a diminishing return on investment for businesses. With an abundance of choices, customers have the luxury of selecting from a wide range of providers, often leading to price wars and reduced profit margins. It was challenging for the Group to keep up with the financial demands of competing the industry and regain market share.

Segment loss from the outdoor and digital advertising business for the Year amounted to approximately RMB4,787,000, representing an increase of approximately RMB2,341,000 or 95.7% as compared to that of last year. The increase was mainly due to lower revenue generated during the Year.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Film and Entertainment Investment

Revenue from film and entertainment investment represents profit sharing on box office of movies and concerts and distribution income of film rights and television drama. Revenue from the distribution of film rights and entertainment was recognised when (i) the Group's entitlement to such payments has been established which was upon the delivery of the master copy or materials to the customers, and (ii) the collectability of proceeds was reasonably assured.

Revenue from film and entertainment investment decreased by approximately RMB7,967,000 or 56.4% from approximately RMB14,130,000 for last year to RMB6,163,000 for the Year. The frequency of income from film and entertainment investment was highly dependent on the production status and the market trend for the respective periods.

Segment loss from film and entertainment business for the Year amounted to approximately RMB54,606,000, representing an increase of approximately RMB6,607,000 or 13.8% as compared to that of last year. The increase was mainly attributable to the increase in the impairment of film rights recognized during the Year as compared to that of last year.

In recent years, the film and entertainment business of the Group has experienced a notable downturn, marked by various challenges and setbacks. The significant factors contributing to this decline are the disrupted film/drama production schedules, delayed releases, the tightened tax practices of the PRC and increased government censorship and regulation in the PRC, leading to limitations on thematic content in films/dramas. As a result of the global COVID-19 pandemic, several film/drama productions of the Group were delayed significantly, resulting in delay in release which have a huge impact on its sales. The management observed that the delayed films of the Group belong to genres that are no longer aligned with current market trends, the target audience preferences and/or the new guidelines and regulations of the PRC government. Additional costs may arise if the films/dramas require modifications to align with market trends and guidelines. Furthermore, the film and entertainment investment business is capital intensive, the capital market has become more rational and cautious in its investments in the film industry due to the high costs associated and the risks and uncertainties involved in the industry. These combined factors have created a challenging environment for the Group as well as other small to medium-sized film production companies that produced film/drama in the PRC and targeted the PRC market. A number of the small to medium-sized film production companies were facing severe financial difficulties or even closed down in recent years.

In line with the industry norm, the Group is required to contribute investment amount at the early stage of the production, so as to support the upfront costs required during the production process. The prepayments primarily represent production costs, design and promotion fees prepaid to the relevant independent third-party service providers. The Group has assessed the creditworthiness of all service providers before entering into agreements with them.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The recognition of the impairment of film rights and impairment for prepayment was mainly due to the uncertainty on recoverability of the prepayments made to certain production companies who are independent third parties and the unfavorable expected results of film rights due to the reasons explained above. The management identified that certain production companies that the Company signed contract with are having financial difficulties or have gone out of business. In addition, the management observed several film productions were delayed significantly or might generate far below income as initially expected, the management must make the rationale decision to cut further loss or cease further investment on those film productions. Annual assessment on the progress of utilization and the recoverability of the prepayments as well as the future economic benefits of the film rights were made. The increase in the impairment of film right and impairment on prepayment for film and entertainment business during the Year was mainly because the economic benefits of film rights and the recoverability of the prepayments are lower compared to the management's expectation from last year. The management assessed the impairment of film rights on a film-by-film basis. Certain film rights sold during the Year were sold at prices that were lower than their carrying amounts which led to the impairment of film rights of approximately RMB10,422,000 (2022: approximately RMB2,585,000).

The Company has engaged an independent firm of professional valuers to conduct a valuation to support the relevant impairment assessment in respect of the impairment on prepayment for film and entertainment business of approximately RMB22,357,000 (2022: approximately RMB22,401,000) recognised during the Year. The prepayments have been valued on value in use basis. Value in use is defined as "the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from an asset or cash-generating unit" in accordance with HKAS 36. The valuer has adopted the income approach, this approach estimates the future economic benefits and discounts these benefits to their present value using an appropriate discount rate for all risks associated with realising those benefits. The valuation was based on the five-year cash flow projection of the prepayments and a discount rate was used to calculate the present value of the cash flow. The same valuation basis and approach have been adopted during the Year and last year.

Major inputs of the valuation include (i) project new cash flow; and (ii) discount rate (if cash flow is non-zero). The key assumptions adopted in the valuation include the following:

- there are no changes, the aggregate of which when viewed together, may be construed to be a material adverse change in the existing political, legal, commercial and banking regulations, fiscal policies, foreign trade and economic conditions in regions where the company currently operates in; and
- revenue projections and future business potential generated from the prepayments are expected to largely conform to those as forecasted by the management of the Company.

The Group has issued demand letters for the remaining balance of prepayments and has been negotiating with the production companies for the repayment plans. At the same time, the Group has been seeking legal opinion and would take legal action against those companies if no positive results on the repayment arises. The Group will continue to use its best effort to liaise with those companies in order to recover the prepayments.

Management will continue to review the business strategy of this segment in order to optimize the financial resources of the Group.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Other income increased from approximately RMB4,687,000 for last year to approximately RMB9,328,000 for the Year, representing an increase of approximately RMB4,641,000 or 99.0%. The increase was mainly contributed by the increased time deposit interest income.

Cost of Sales

Cost of sales mainly consists of production cost for film and entertainment projects, agency fee for advertising medium, prepaid card transaction processing costs and direct labor cost. Cost of sales decreased from approximately RMB56,854,000 for last year to RMB18,818,000 for the Year, representing a decrease of approximately 66.9%. The decrease was in line with the decrease in revenue for the Year.

Selling and Distribution Expenses

Selling and distribution expenses mainly include advertising expenses, salaries, commissions to sales staff and travelling and related expenses. It accounted for approximately 1.9% and 5.1% of the Group’s total revenue for the years ended 31 December 2022 and 2023, respectively. The amount increased by approximately 31.7% from approximately RMB1,329,000 for last year to approximately RMB1,750,000 for the Year, which was mainly due to higher staff costs incurred during the Year.

Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses mainly consists of salaries, depreciation of fixed assets, rental expense and legal and professional fees. Administrative expenses decreased by approximately 20.0% from approximately RMB36,647,000 for last year to approximately RMB29,324,000 for the Year. The decrease was mainly because no equity-settled share-based payment expenses and lower corporate expenses incurred during the Year.

Other Gains and Losses

Other gains and losses turnaround from other losses of approximately RMB8,339,000 for last year to other gain of approximately RMB1,781,000 for the Year. It was mainly due to the fair value gain on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss recognised during the Year.

Income Tax Expense

No income tax expense was recognized for the Year (2022: nil).

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Allowance for expected credit losses on trade receivables, net

The Group recognised a loss allowance of approximately RMB17,226,000 for expected credit loss (“ECL”) on trade receivables which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9 during the Year, representing an increase of approximately RMB13,402,000 or 350.5% as compared to approximately RMB3,824,000 for last year. The ECL on trade receivables are estimated using a provision matrix by reference to past default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor’s current financial position, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate. To ensure the adequacy of allowance for ECL, the Group engaged an independent firm of professional valuers to conduct a valuation on the allowance for ECL on trade receivables recognised.

Key value of inputs used and assumptions adopted in valuation

The valuer adopted the simplified approach to measure the ECL of the trade receivables. Major inputs of the assessment of the ECL include (i) probability of default; (ii) loss given default; (iii) exposure at default; and (iv) discount factor reflecting time value of money.

The key assumptions adopted in the valuation include the following:

- historical aging schedules, settlement and default records can be reliably measured and be relied on when measuring the ECL on a portfolio basis as at the assessment date;
- industry credit data and default records can be reliably measured and be relied on when measuring the ECL on a portfolio basis as at the assessment date; and
- forward-looking information, based on the point-in-time estimates of macroeconomic indicators as at the reporting date, can be reliably adopted as at the assessment date.

There were no changes in valuation method and significant changes in the inputs or assumptions compared to last year. The Group considered that its debtors and their repayment ability have been affected by the adverse business environment and the slow recovery of the economy. Certain trade receivables have been overdue over one year and the default rates on those balances increased compared to last year, which resulting in an increase in the allowance for the ECL.

To recover the trade receivables, the Group has taken actions included issuing reminder notices and/or negotiating with debtors for repayment plans. The Group shall consider taking legal actions or engaging debt recovery agencies after assessing the negotiation results, the debtor’s financial condition and cost implications in recovering the debts. The Group will continue to use its best effort to maximise the chances of recovering the trade receivables.

As at 31 December 2023, the current ratio was approximately 1.10 (2022: 1.23) and the gearing ratio of the Group was approximately 0.52 (2022: 0.33) which was calculated based on the Group’s net debt divided by the equity attributable to owners of the Company plus net debt. Ltd. (collectively the "Operating Entities"), to obtain the economic benefits from the Operating Entities and acquire the equity interests in the Contracting Entities as and when permitted under the applicable PRC laws and to allow the Company to consolidate the assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses of the Operating Entities into the Group's consolidated financial statements as if they were the Group's subsidiaries, and the economic benefit of their business flows to the Group.

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES OF THE CONTRACTING ENTITIES AND THEIR SIGNIFICANCE TO THE GROUP

The Contracting Entities, namely Fujian Ao Shen and Beijing Datusu, were the two operating companies established in the PRC for the purpose of implementing the Contractual Arrangements and were owned as to 50% and 50% by Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan. As at 31 December 2023, the Operating Entities were principally engaged in the printed media business as well as outdoor and digital advertising business.

Pursuant to the prevailing laws and regulations in China, enterprises with foreign ownership are prohibited from engaging in the business of web publishing, publication and general distribution of books, periodicals and newspapers in China. Therefore the Group entered into cooperation agreements with our partners in the PRC through the Contracting Entities for the operation and distribution of printed media and digital advertising. The revenue from the Operating Entities contributed approximately 3.5% of the total revenue of the Group for the Year. Accordingly, the Board considers that the Contracting Entities and the Contractual Arrangements are insignificant to the business of the Group.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

The table below sets out the revenue and loss for the year of the Contracting Entities for the Year and the total assets and total liabilities of the Contracting Entities, including intercompany balances, as at 31 December 2023:

	For the year ended 31 December 2023 RMB million	Approximate percentage of contribution to the Group (%)
Revenue	–	0%
Loss for the year	0.4	0.7%

	As at 31 December 2023 RMB million	Approximate percentage of contribution to the Group (note) (%)
Total assets	62.3	22.8%
Total liabilities	28.8	12.1%

Note: The total assets and total liabilities of the Contracting Entities (i.e. the numerator in calculation of the percentage) include a significant amount of intercompany balances of the Group of approximately RMB44.1 million and RMB16.3 million, respectively. Assuming such intercompany balances of the Group are excluded from the total assets and total liabilities of the Group in calculation of the percentage, the total assets of the Contracting Entities account for approximately 6.7% of the total assets of the Group as at 31 December 2023 whereas the total liabilities of the Contracting Entities account for approximately 5.2% of the total liabilities of the Group as at 31 December 2023.

RISKS RELATING TO THE CONTRACTUAL ARRANGEMENTS AND ACTIONS TAKEN BY THE COMPANY TO MITIGATE THE RISKS

There is no assurance that the Contractual Arrangements are in compliance with future PRC laws and regulations

Although the PRC legal advisers of the Company confirms that the Structure Agreements constitute valid and binding contractual arrangements between the parties thereto and are in compliance with the prevailing and applicable laws or regulations in China, there is no assurance that there will be no future laws and regulations promulgated by the PRC government that would limit the implementation of the arrangements under the Structure Agreements.

If the Structure Agreements are considered to be in breach of the applicable laws and regulations in China in the future, the Group could be subject to penalty imposed by the PRC government or that the arrangements under the Structure Agreements would need to discontinue or be subject to such other conditions or requirements that the Group may not be able to comply with.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

Moreover, if the ownership structure, contractual arrangements and businesses under the Contractual Arrangements are found to be in violation of any existing or future laws or regulations in China, the PRC government would have discretion in dealing with such violations, including:

- revoking the business licence of Aoshen Technology, which business and operations are essential to the operation of the Group's business;
- levying fines;
- confiscating the income of Aoshen Technology;
- discontinuing or restricting the Group's operations;
- imposing conditions or requirements with which the Group's operations may not be able to comply with;
- requiring the Group to restructure its relevant ownership structure, operations or contractual arrangements; and
- taking other regulatory or enforcement actions that could be harmful to the Group's business.

If the PRC government takes any of the above mentioned measures against the Group, the Group may have to cease its business and the Group's operating results could be adversely affected.

The Company relies on the Contractual Arrangements to control and obtain economic benefits from the Operating Entities, which may not be as effective in providing operational control as direct ownership

As the Company obtains the revenue generated by the Operating Entities from the arrangements under the Structure Agreements, if Mr. Lin, Mr. Ruan and/or the Contracting Entities breach their obligations under the Structure Agreements or if the Contracting Entities loses effective control over the Operating Entities for any reason, there might be cessation of the Structure Agreements.

Cessation of the arrangements under the Structure Agreements could result in the Operating Entities ceasing to contribute revenue to the Group until alternative arrangements are found. There might be disruption or discontinuance of the Group's operations if alternative arrangements cannot be found or if any new arrangements cannot be put into effect in a timely manner. Any of these incidents could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, operating results and financial condition.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

Actions taken by the Company to mitigate the risks

In light of the risks set out above, the Company would seek legal advice from its PRC legal advisers regarding the legality, validity and enforceability of Contractual Arrangements regularly so as to identify and mitigate the adverse impact brought by the Contractual Arrangements in a timely manner as a result of the future PRC laws and regulations.

In addition, it is the intention of the Group to unwind the Contractual Arrangements when foreign investment in the business of publication and general distribution of books, periodicals and newspapers in China is no longer restricted in the PRC. However, as at the date of this report, such restrictions remain subsisted in the PRC and therefore the Contractual Arrangements are still subsisting as at the date of this report.

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF CHINA 33 MEDIA GROUP LIMITED

(Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of China 33 Media Group Limited (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Group”) set out on pages 47 to 123, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2023, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKASs”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (“the Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. The key audit matters we identified are: 1. impairment of film rights; 2. impairment on prepayment for film and entertainment business; 3. impairment assessment on trade receivables.

Impairment of film rights

Refer to note 3 and note 19 to the consolidated financial statements.

We identified the impairment assessment on provision of film rights as disclosed in note 19 to the consolidated financial statements as a key audit matter due to the judgment and estimation uncertainty associated with the provision assessment.

The management of the Group assesses the provision of film rights on a film-by-film basis. The recoverable amount of the film rights was determined based on the present value of the expected future revenue generated from the film less future cost of sales. If the recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount, the carrying amount of the film rights will be written down to its recoverable amount.

During the year ended 31 December 2023, a provision made on film right of approximately RMB10,422,000 was recognised.

Our procedures in relation to valuation of film rights included:

- Obtaining all agreements for the sales of film rights entered into after the end of the reporting period, if any;
- Examining the supporting documents for the installments received from the buyers for the sales of film rights; and
- Assessing and challenging the management's assessment on the recoverability for those film rights not yet sold at the end of the reporting period including those assumption used in the forecast model.

Impairment on prepayment for film and entertainment business

Refer to note 3 and note 19 to the consolidated financial statements.

We identified the impairment assessment on prepayment for film and entertainment business as disclosed in note 19 to the consolidated financial statements as a key audit matter due to the judgement and estimation uncertainty associated with the provision assessment.

The amount represents the prepayment to the production companies who are responsible for the production of movies and television dramas, concert production services and concert event management. The prepayment for film and entertainment business will be reclassified to film rights upon commencement of production of the related films.

During the year ended 31 December 2023, an impairment made on such prepayment of approximately RMB22,357,000 was recognised.

Our procedures in relation to the impairment on prepayment for film and entertainment business included:

- Perform aging analysis on the prepayment for film and entertainment;
- Assess the relevant control effectiveness from the management on the prepayment for film and entertainment;
- Obtaining cooperative agreements signed with the production companies;
- Checking the payment details against the terms of the cooperative agreements to assess the appropriateness of the recognition of prepayment;
- Obtaining confirmations to confirm the prepayment for film and entertainment business balance;
- Conducting company searches on the production companies to ensure they are not related parties;
- Conducting interviews, on a sample basis, with the production companies to understand the progress of the production; and
- Challenging managements assessment in the recoverable amount of the prepayment for which the film production has not proceeded for a long period of time.

Impairment assessment on trade receivables

Refer to note 3, note 18 and note 31 to the consolidated financial statements

As at 31 December 2023, the Group had gross trade receivables of approximately RMB96,903,000 and provision for impairment of approximately RMB60,463,000.

In general, the credit terms granted by the Group to the customers ranged between 30 to 365 days. Management performed periodic assessment on the recoverability of the trade receivables and the sufficiency of provision for impairment based on information including credit profile of different customers, ageing of the trade receivables, historical settlement records, subsequent settlement status, expected timing and amount of realisation of outstanding balances, and on-going trading relationships with the relevant customers. Management also considered forward-looking information that may impact the customers' ability to repay the outstanding balances in order to estimate the expected credit losses for the impairment assessment.

We identified this area as the key audit matter due to the impairment assessment of trade receivables under the expected credit losses model involved the use of significant management judgements and estimates.

Our procedures in relation to impairment assessment of the trade receivables as at 31 December 2023 included:

- Understanding and evaluating the key controls that the Group has implemented to manage and monitor its credit risk, and validating the control effectiveness on a sample basis;
- Checking, on a sample basis, the ageing profile of the trade receivables as at 31 December 2023 to the underlying financial records and post year-end settlements to bank receipts;
- Inquiring of management for the status of each of the material trade receivables past due as at year end and corroborating explanations from management with supporting evidence, such as performing public search of credit profile of selected customers, understanding on-going business relationship with the customers based on trade records, checking historical and subsequent settlement records of and other correspondence with the customers; and
- Assessing the appropriateness of the expected credit loss provisioning methodology, examining the key data inputs on a sample basis to assess their accuracy and completeness, and challenging the assumptions, including both historical and forward-looking information, used to determine the expected credit losses.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all of the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND AUDIT COMMITTEE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Audit Committee assists the directors in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with Section 405 of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement director on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Wong Ka Bo, Jimmy.

Should the Group be unable to continue as a going concern, adjustments would have to be made to the consolidated financial statements to adjust the value of the Group's assets to their recoverable amounts, to provide for any further liabilities which might arise and to reclassify non-current assets and liabilities as current assets and current liabilities respectively. The effects of these potential adjustments have not been reflected in these consolidated financial statements.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (continued)

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either in the principal market for the asset or liability, or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 – based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is observable, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by reassessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain key assumptions and estimates. It also requires the directors to exercise its judgments in the process of applying the accounting policies. The areas involving critical judgements and areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to these financial statements, are disclosed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements.

The material accounting policy information applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- has exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Company has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Company considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Company's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Company's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Company, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Company has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Company gains control until the date when the Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Where necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of the subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Revenue and other income recognition

Revenue recognition

Under IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers, the Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when “control” of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group’s performance as the Group performs;
- The Group’s performance creates and enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- The Group’s performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance complete to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group’s right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with IFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group’s unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the group’s obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to a contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

For contracts that contain more than one performance obligation, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis.

(i) Printed Media Advertising

Revenue from printed media advertising is recognised over time upon the performance of the services or in accordance with the terms of the contracts.

Revenue from printed media advertising mainly represented the amount generated from the sales of the advertising space on the periodicals and was recognised upon the publication of the periodicals in which the respective advertisement was placed.

Revenue from provision of printed media advertising is recognised over the scheduled period on a straight-line basis because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of advertising provided by the Group.

(ii) Outdoor and Digital Advertising

Revenue from outdoor and digital advertising is recognised over time upon the performance of the service or in accordance with the terms of the contracts. Revenue from outdoor and digital advertising represented the advertising income generated from online advertising through mobile applications and websites, etc., as well as sale of advertising spaces on the billboard and LEDs installed at certain railway station, revenue from promotion campaigns conducted in train stations. Revenue was recognised when advertising were published or station campaigns were launched.

Revenue from provision of outdoor and digital advertising is recognised over the scheduled period on a straight-line basis because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of advertising provided by the Group.

(iii) Film and entertainment investment income

Revenue from the distribution of film rights and entertainment was recognised at point in time when (i) the Group's entitlement to such payments has been established which was upon the delivery of the master copy or materials to the customers, and (ii) the collectability of proceeds was reasonably assured.

(iv) Prepaid card

Revenue from prepaid card service is recognised in accounting period in which the services are rendered. Prepaid card service is recognised when the prepaid cardholders made payments of fares using the prepaid card and the card related fees when the service was provided.

Revenue from prepaid card mainly represent the transaction fees recognised when the prepaid cardholders made payments of fares using the prepaid card and the card related fees when the service was provided.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (continued)

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants where primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognised as deferred income in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis in the period in which they become receivable.

Leasing

(a) Definition of a lease

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

For contracts entered into or modified or arising from business combinations on or after the date of initial application, the Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under IFRS 16 at inception, modification date or acquisition date, as appropriate. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

(b) As a lessee

(i) Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group also applies practical expedient not to separate non-lease components from lease component, and instead account for the lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component.

As a practical expedient, leases with similar characteristics are accounted on a portfolio basis when the Group reasonably expects that the effects on the financial statements would not differ materially from individual leases within the portfolio.

(ii) Right-of-use assets

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease.

The Group recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e. the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the underlying leased assets at the end of the lease term is depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets as a separate line item on the consolidated statements of financial position.

(iii) Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

(iv) Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group; and
- payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group remeasures lease liabilities (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use assets) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review/expected payment under a guaranteed residual value, in which cases the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

(b) As a lessee (continued)

(v) Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

Leasehold land and building

When a lease includes both land and building elements, the Group assesses the classification of each element as a finance or an operating lease separately based on the assessment as to whether substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of each element have been transferred to the Group, unless it is clear that both elements are operating leases in which case the entire lease is classified as an operating lease. Specifically, the minimum lease payments (including any lump-sum upfront payments) are allocated between the land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values of the leasehold interests in the land element and building element of the lease at the inception of the lease.

When the lease payments cannot be allocated reliably between the land and building elements, the entire lease is generally classified as a finance lease and accounted for as property, plant and equipment.

Film rights

Film rights represent films, television programmes and television drama series (“films” or singularly, “film”) produced by the Group or acquired by the Group.

Prepayment under film cooperation agreements are transferred to film rights upon commencement of production of the related films.

Film rights are stated at cost less any identified impairment loss.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit before taxation as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group’s liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax base used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary difference to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, and interests in associates and a joint venture, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of a deferred tax asset is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for leasing transactions in which the Group recognises the right-of-use assets and the related lease liabilities, the Group first determines whether the tax deductions are attributable to the right-of-use assets or the lease liabilities.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies IAS 12 Income Taxes requirements to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities separately. Temporary differences relating to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are not recognised at initial recognition and over the lease terms due to application of the initial recognition exemption.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (i.e. RMB) using exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period. Income and expenses items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during the period, in which case, the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of transactions are used. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading of the exchange reserve.

Retirement benefit costs

Payments to state-managed retirement benefit schemes and Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme ("MPF Scheme") are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The property, plant and equipment are depreciated on a straight-line basis to their residual values as follows:

Buildings	Over the shorter of lease terms and 20 years
Leasehold improvement	Over shorter of lease terms and 5 year
Motor vehicles	10 years
Office equipment	5 years

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in the profit or loss.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (continued)

Other non-current assets

Other non-current assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Amortisation for other non-current assets is provided on a straight-line basis over their respective estimated useful lives, i.e. the term of the expected duration of outdoor advertising activities to be carried out by the Group. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

A non-current asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains and losses arising from derecognition of a non-current asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment on tangible assets

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (continued)

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Recognised financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivable arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with IFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL") are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI"):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both selling and collecting contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at FVTPL, except that at the date of initial application/initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in other comprehensive income ("OCI") if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which IFRS 3 Business Combinations applies.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that are required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTOCI as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

(a) Amortised cost and interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired (see below). For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit-impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.

(b) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or designated as FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other revenue and other income" line item.

(c) Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit loss ("ECL") on financial assets which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9 (including trade receivables, other receivables, restricted bank deposits and cash and bank balances). The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting period to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12m ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting period. Assessment are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting period as well as the forecast of future conditions.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(d) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting period with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(e) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full.

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 365 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(a) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events of default that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

(b) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(e) Definition of default (continued)

(c) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

Where ECL is measured on a collective basis or cater for cases where evidence at the individual instrument level may not yet be available, the financial instruments are grouped on the following basis:

- Nature of financial instruments (i.e. the Group's trade and other receivables, and other receivables for termination of film investment, are each assessed as a separate group.
- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Cash and cash equivalent

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other financial institutions, and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management are also included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flow. Cash and cash equivalents are assessed for ECL.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments

(a) Classification as financial liabilities or equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

(b) Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

(c) Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest expense is recognised on an effective interest basis.

(d) Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(e) Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities (including trade payables, accruals, lease liability, bond payable and other payables) are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

(a) Share options granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of services received determined by reference to the fair value of share options granted at the grant date is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, with a corresponding increase in equity (share option reserve). At the end of the reporting period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to ultimately vest. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to share option reserve. For share options that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the share options granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

When the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date or still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to accumulated losses.

(b) Share options granted to consultants

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions with parties other than employees are measured at the fair value of the goods or services received, except where that fair value cannot be estimated reliably, in which case they are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted, measured at the date the entity obtains the goods or the counterparty renders the service. The fair values of the goods or services received are recognised as expenses (unless the goods or services qualify for recognition as assets).

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in note 3, the directors of the Company are required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The following are the critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the directors have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

Control over the Contracting Entities

Note 35 describes that Fujian Ao Shen and Beijing Datisu (collectively the "Contracting Entities", each a "Contracting Entity") are subsidiaries of the Group although the Group does not have any equity interest in the registered capital of the Contracting Entities, each of which were established and owned as to 50% and 50% by Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan, controlling shareholders of the Group, while Mr. Ruan is also an executive director of the Company. The directors assessed whether or not the Group has control over the Contracting Entities based on whether the Group has the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the Contracting Entities unilaterally. In making their judgment, the directors considered the Contractual Arrangements (see the details of the Contractual Arrangements below).

Subject to compliance with the PRC laws, such options may be exercised at any time and in any manner at the sole discretion of Hong Kong Ao Shen. Pursuant to the Option Agreements, each of the Contracting Entities and/or Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan has given undertakings that it shall perform certain acts or refrain from performing certain other acts unless with the prior written consent of Ao Shen Technology, including but not limited to the below matters:

Ao Shen Technology and Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan entered into power of attorney (the "Power of Attorney") pursuant to which Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan have unconditionally and irrevocably undertaken to authorise such person(s) as designated by Ao Shen Technology (being PRC citizens) to exercise the shareholders' rights in relation to appointment of proxy and exercise of voting rights in each of the Contracting Entities under the articles of associate of the Contracting Entities and the applicable PRC laws. Such shareholders' rights include but are not limited to (i) calling and attending the shareholders' meetings of the Contracting Entities; (ii) exercising the voting rights on all matters requiring the consideration and approval of shareholders and those pursuant to articles of association of the Contracting Entities.

Before Ao Shen Technology acquires the equity interests from Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan in each of the Contracting Entities contemplated under the Option Agreements, Ao Shen Technology can exercise the voting rights of shareholders of the Contracting Entities as if Ao Shen Technology and hence the Group was the ultimate beneficial owner of the Contracting Entities by virtue of the Power of Attorney.

The term of the Power of Attorney commenced on 17 December 2010 and will remain effective during the term of the Framework Agreements.

Exclusivity agreements

Ao Shen Technology and each of the Contracting Entities entered into exclusivity agreements (the "Exclusivity Agreements") pursuant to which the Contracting Entities will exclusively engage Ao Shen Technology to provide consultation services in the management of assets, operation and liabilities, sales and marketing and other supporting services.

In consideration of the provision of the aforementioned services by Ao Shen Technology, each of the Contracting Entities agrees to pay to Ao Shen Technology (or such other entities as Ao Shen Technology may direct) fees on an annual basis in arrears. Fees payable to Ao Shen Technology by each of the Contracting Entities will be equivalent to the total revenue less all the related costs, expenses and taxes of the respective Contracting Entities, as audited by certified public accountants of the PRC.

Pursuant to the Exclusivity Agreements, each of the Contracting Entities shall not without the prior written consent of Ao Shen Technology to dispose of or pledge its material assets, operation rights and/or business; alter its registered capital; alter its scope of business; declare dividends; and/or remove any of its directors and senior management members.

The term of the Exclusivity Agreements commenced from 17 December 2010 and will remain effective for a perpetual term unless and until terminated by Ao Shen Technology by the giving of a 30-day advance notice in writing; and it will be automatically terminated upon dissolution of the relevant Contracting Entity.

Equity pledge agreements

Ao Shen Technology and Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan entered into equity pledge agreements (the “Equity Pledge Agreements”), whereby Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan have pledged their entire interests in each of the Contracting Entities to secure the payment of consultations services fees to Ao Shen Technology under the Exclusivity Agreements.

Pursuant to the Equity Pledge Agreements, without the prior written consent of Ao Shen Technology, the Contracting Entities shall not alter its current shareholding structure and/or its nature or scope of business, Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan shall not allow the Contracting Entities to transfer or dispose of its assets and pledge or transfer their respective equity interests in the Contracting Entities in favour of or to other third parties. Ao Shen Technology is entitled to receive all dividends derived from the pledged equity interests. Ao Shen Technology is entitled to demand repayment of the secured indebtedness and/or to exercise its rights to sell the pledged equity interests on occurrence of certain events of default including but not limited to non-performance or breach of any of the Exclusivity Agreements, the Option Agreements and the Power of Attorney; or failure to repay other debts when due by the Contracting Entities or Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan (as the case may be).

The Equity Pledge Agreements became effective when they were executed on 17 December 2010 until all payments in each of the Exclusivity Agreements are settled by the relevant Contracting Entity, as well as upon which the relevant Contracting Entity is no longer responsible for the performance under the Exclusivity Agreements; and they will be automatically terminated upon dissolution of the relevant Contracting Entity

In the opinion of the directors, all the terms of the Contractual Arrangements are valid, binding and legally enforceable on all parties under the applicable laws in the PRC. Pursuant to the Contractual Arrangements, Mr. Lin and Mr. Ruan assigned all the shareholder’s rights of the Contracting Entities and to assign the power to appoint and remove all the members of the board of directors and to govern the financial and operating policies of the Contracting Entities to the Group. The directors of the Company considered such agreements give the Group the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the Contracting Entities. With the power over the Contracting Entities and the ability to use the power over the Contracting Entities to affect the amount of the Group’s return, the Group treats the Contracting Entities as wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company under IFRS 10 and the Contracting Entities’ results, assets and liabilities are consolidated with those of the Group. The total assets, total liabilities and the loss for the year of the Contracting Entities and their subsidiaries are RMB19,907,000, RMB28,792,000 and RMB408,000 (2022: RMB23,685,000, RMB32,162,000 and RMB893,000), respectively.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

Impairment of property, plant and equipment

Determining whether an impairment is required requires an estimation of recoverable amounts of the property, plant and equipment or the respective cash generating units (“CGU”) in which the property, plant and equipment belong, which is the higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal. If there is any indication that an asset may be impaired, recoverable amount shall be estimated for individual asset. If it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of the individual asset, the Group shall determine the recoverable amount of the CGU to which the asset belongs. The value in use calculation requires the Group to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the assets or CGUs and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value. The discount rate represents a rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the future cash flow estimates have not been adjusted. Where the actual future cash flows or the revision of estimated future cash flows are less than original estimated future cash flow, a material impairment loss may arise. As at 31 December 2023, the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment is RMB4,193,000 (2022: RMB4,652,000).

Estimated impairment of film rights

At the end of the reporting period, the management of the Group assesses the impairment of film rights with reference to its recoverable amount. The assessment was made on a film-by-film basis. The recoverable amount of the film rights was determined based on the present value of the expected future revenue generated from the film less future cost of sales. If the recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount, the carrying amount of the film rights will be written down to its recoverable amount. Based on the management assessment’s on the recoverability of film rights, impairment loss approximately of RMB10,422,000 (2022: RMB2,585,000) was recognised. As at 31 December 2023, the carrying amount of the film rights is Nil (2022: RMB9,065,000). Details of the film rights are disclosed in note 19.

Estimated Impairment of trade receivables

The loss allowances for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement at amortised cost in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group’s past history, existing market conditions as well as forward-looking estimates at the end of each reporting period. Details of the key assumptions and inputs used are disclosed in note 31.

As at 31 December 2023, the carrying amount of trade receivables is RMB36,440,000 (net of allowance for doubtful debts of RMB60,463,000) (2022: RMB57,277,000 (net of allowance for doubtful debts of RMB41,811,000)).

Impairment of prepayment for film and entertainment business

Prepayment for film and entertainment business is stated at costs less accumulated impairment, if any. In determining whether an asset is impaired, the Group has to exercise judgment and make estimation, particularly in assessing: (1) whether an event has occurred or any indicators that may affect the asset value; and (2) whether the carrying value of an asset can be supported by the recoverable amount, in the case of value in use, the net present value of future cash flows which are estimated based upon the continued use of the asset. Changing the assumptions and estimates, could materially affect the net present value used in the impairment test.

As at 31 December 2023, the carrying amounts of such prepayment is Nil (2022: RMB28,733,000). During the year ended 31 December 2023, impairment of approximately RMB22,357,000 (2022: RMB22,401,000) was recognised.

	2022	2020
Grant date share price	HK$0.112	HK$0.048
Exercise price (before share consolidation)	HK$0.112	HK$0.078

Expected life	2 years	2 years
Risk-free rate	2.11%	0.18%
Expected dividend yield	–	–

Expected volatility was determined by using the historical volatility of the Company's share price over the previous 2 years. The expected life used in the model has been adjusted, based on management's best estimate, for the effects of non-transferability, exercise restrictions and behavioural considerations.

No other feature of the options granted was incorporated into the measurement of fair value.

31. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

Market risk

Currency risk

The Group collects most of its revenue in RMB and incurs most of the expenditures as well as capital expenditures in RMB, while the Group still has certain foreign currency denominated monetary assets, which expose the Group to foreign currency risk. The Group currently does not have a foreign currency hedging policy. However, the management monitors foreign exchange exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need arise.

As at end of the reporting period, the carrying amounts of the Group's monetary assets and liabilities that are denominated in currencies other than functional currencies of the respective group entities are as follows:

	US$		JPY		EUR
	2023 RMB'000	2022 RMB'000	2023 RMB'000	2022 RMB'000	2023 RMB'000	2022 RMB'000
Restricted cash	500	5	238	219	420	29

Sensitivity analysis

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2022: 5%) increase and decrease in the functional currency of the respective group entities against relevant foreign currencies and all other variables were held constant. 5% (2022: 5%) is the sensitivity rate used by management in the assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% (2022: 5%) change in foreign currency rates. The negative numbers below indicate decrease in post-tax loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 where the functional currency of the respective group entities strengthens 5% (2022: 5%) against the relevant foreign currencies. For a 5% (2022: 5%) weakening of the functional currency of the respective group entities against the relevant foreign currencies, there would be an equal and opposite impact on the result for the year.

Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to short-term bank deposits and cash and cash equivalents. The management has considered that the cash flow interest rate risk is limited because the current market interest rates on general deposits are relatively low and stable. The Group currently does not have interest rate hedging policy. However, the management of the Group will consider hedging significant interest rate exposure should the need arise.

The management considers that the Group's exposure to cash flow interest rate risk on variable-rate restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents as a result of the change of market interest rate is insignificant due to its short-term maturity and thus no sensitivity analysis is prepared for interest rate risk.

Price Risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities. The management manages this exposure by maintaining a portfolio of investments with different risks. The Group's equity price risk is mainly concentrated on equity instruments quoted on the Stock Exchange. In addition, the Group has delegated the chief financial officer of the Group to monitor the price risk and will consider hedging the risk exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to equity price risks at the reporting date. For sensitivity analysis purpose, the sensitivity rate is set as 10% as a result of the volatile financial market.

If the prices of the respective equity instruments had been 10% higher/lower, the loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 would decrease/increase by RMB1,300,000 (2022: RMB1,063,000) as a result of the changes in fair value of FVTPL.

31. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

Credit risk

The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to trade receivables, deposits and other receivables, restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents.

The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses prescribed by IFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime expected credit loss provision for all trade receivables. To measure the expected credit losses, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics. The Group has performed historical analysis and identified the key economic variables impacting credit risk and expected credit loss. It considers available reasonable and supportive forwarding-looking information.

In order to minimise the credit risk, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits, credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverable amount of each individual debt at the end of the reporting period to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

The Group has concentration of credit risks with exposure limited to certain customers. Trade receivables (after impairment) from the five largest debtors at 31 December 2023 represented 60% (2022: 56%) of the total trade receivables. The management closely monitors the subsequent settlement of the customers. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

Refundable Deposits and other receivables

For other receivables, the directors of the Company make periodic individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables and other deposits based on historical settlement records, past experience, and also quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportive forward-looking information.

The directors of the Company believe that there are no significant increase in credit risk of refundable deposit since initial recognition and the Group has realistic prospect of recovery.

Restricted cash/cash and cash equivalents

The credit risk on restricted cash and cash and cash equivalents are limited because the majority of the counterparties are banks with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies. The Group has no other significant concentration of credit risk.
